VIRGINIA JENKINSON

It's amazing, but true! One hundred years ago the population of California was 100,000; today it is 13 million and a national magazine recently estimated it will reach a peak of 50 million.

The Co-ordinating Council and the City Recreation department are again doing a fine bit of work. This time it's a project for teenagers. Already two meetings have been held to explore ways and means of providing better recreational facilities for boys and girls of high school age. These two organizations are joining hands with the parents and teenagers themselves to find the kind of activity best suited to the youth living in this particular area.

One idea is the establishment of some kind of clubhouse and the committees will soon be functioning to bring first hand information on plans which have worked successfully in other towns and which may be adapted to our needs. Mrs. Edith Dane, president of the Co-ordinating group, says the teenagers must engineer the project after the preliminary structure has been started by the parents, her organization and the City Recreation department.

Have you heard the plight of the man who purchased a large unassembleable play tractor for his son and delayed building it until Christmas Eve? Thinking that the project would consume only a few minutes time tightening nuts and screws, the man whistled about in his workshop, filled with the spirit of Christmas. He examined a can of paint; toyed with an electric saw; swept out the car for the trip to grandma's the next day and finally opened the carton containing the tractor!

But what did he find! A tractor to be sure, but a tractor with several important pieces

Davidson to Be Friendship Club Speaker

Guest speaker at the Sierra Madre Community Friendship Club, meeting Monday at 2 p. m. at the City Park House, will be Wayne Davidson, director of the Los Angeles County Committee dealing with the problems of senior citizens, their opportunities and needs. Davidson's topic will be: "How Not to Grow Old."

Director Davidson previously was assistant director for the Los Angeles County Bureau of Public Assistance in the administration of old age security. He has been in public welfare capacities for more than 20 years.

A film provided by the Los Angeles County Heart Association will be shown and refreshments served. All Sierra Madreans are invited to attend without charge.

Welcome Sign Is Unwelcome

The sad story of Sierra Madre's unwelcome "Welcome" sign, described at the last meeting of City Council, may eventually reach a not so sad conclusion if, when, and provided someone can find a place for the thing.

Not that there is anything wrong with the sign itself. In fact, it's a rather pleasant, and certainly a very helpful, sign. Its only trouble is—nobody wants it.

Once upon a time it stood bravely at the corner of Foothill and Michillinda Boulevards, pointing the way to Sierra Madre with the friendly greeting: "Welcome." Then, about 18 months ago, electric stop-and-go signs were installed and the intersection widened. Out went the sign.

Like a man without a country, it has been refused even so much as standing room by state, county, Pasadena, and private authorities. Stashed away in storage at the local Water Works its best chance for returning to a useful life is the fact that, along with City Council, City Administrator Lawrence Bevington is still trying to find a practical place for it. After all, its directional service once was helpful to many.

There's a chance that the City of Arcadia may grant it a strip of land at the Foothill location. If not, Councilman Roberts has suggested that it might be used at the corner of W. Sierra Madre and Michillinda Boulevards.

One thing for sure—there are many here who would like many over there to know that Sierra Madre is here, not there, and if the unwelcome "Welcome" sign can straighten all that out then more power and welcome to it!

New Minister To Move Here From Berkeley

The new minister at the Congregational Church, assuming his pulpit duties Mar. 13, will be the Rev. George W. Lindsay who is moving here from Berkeley with his wife and family.

Rev. Lindsay, who was ordained at New Pilgrim Congregational Church in Oakland, Calif., in 1948, became Minister of Education of the Northern Conference and one of the leading officers of the American Unitarian Conference, a summer camp, in that same year. He served in those capacities until he received his call to the Sierra Madre Congregational Church early this year.

He attended Linfield College in McMinnville, Ore., from 1936 to 1940, receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1940; also the University of Washington where he took his B.A.L. in 1941. He was graduated from the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley in 1948, where he received his Bachelor of Divinity degree.

A member of the Army Medical Corps from 1942 to 1945, Rev. Lindsay served in the Pacific at several stations including New Guinea and Korea. While at the Pacific School of Religion he served as Student Assistant at the Piedmont Community Church from 1946 to 1947, and as Minister of the Cloverdale Congregational Church from 1947 to 1948.

Mrs. Lindsay is a graduate of Linfield College and a trained Y.W.C.A. secretary. She and her husband have three children: Bruce Gilbert, 10, Ronald Ward, 8, and Cathryn Louise, 6.

Council Petitioned to Develop New Street

Status of Shelter in Square Discussed by City Fathers

The meeting of the City Council Wednesday, Feb. 23 was relatively quiet with a short agenda on subjects which did not create heated debate.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shearer, 73 Esperanza, presented a petition requesting development of the proposed new street south of Sierra Madre Blvd., between Hermosa and Baldwin. The Shearers told Council members that in their opinion the majority of property owners in the vicinity were in favor of the project, however they wished to know specifically who is entitled to vote on the improvement and who would bear the cost of it.

City Attorney Cornyn explained that all property owners on the surrounding four streets are legal voters on the proposed street, but only those whose property abuts the new street would be assessed for their proportionate share of the cost.

Zoning Objection

Mrs. Grace Vane spoke on the subject of re-zoning and stated that she had heard much public dissatisfaction on the entire plan.

Mayor James replied that the Council and City Planning Commission felt the need of a plan by means of which the City can grow comfortably, hurting in its inevitable expansion the fewest number of persons.

"We need the best impartial advice we can get, but the responsibilities will rest upon the City Council, not upon outside experts," he said.

Shelter on the Square

The Council read a letter received from the Chamber of Commerce asking its approval and assistance in converting the building which housed the Christmas Nativity scene into a shelter for bus passengers.

Councilman Roberts was favorable to the suggestion, but Councilman Lorne questioned its suitability for this purpose, saying that while it was ideal for the Nativity scene, it would look like a "cigar box" if exposed permanently in the Square as a utility building. He pointed out that San Marino has an attractive structure for bus passengers. Mayor James was of the opinion that a stronger building for protection against inclement weather would be more satisfactory. He pointed out that bad weather often occurs at Christmas when the building would be in use for the Yuletide scene.

Decision on the matter was held over.

Square Dance Classes Start In Square Friday Night!

ISABELL CONNAUGHTON

There is still time for that youngster of yours to enroll in the square dancing classes to be held in the Square each Friday night under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, Leila Roberts, chairman of the event, reported this week.

The first lesson will be given Friday, March 4 and already nearly 26 boys and girls have signified their eagerness to participate in this newest com-

LATE BULLETIN

It was announced at NEWS press time Wednesday that the meeting of City Planning Commission scheduled for Thursday night at 8 o'clock, Mar. 10, in the City Hall for the purpose of holding the second hearing on the Bateman-Horwarth request for a variance to operate a boys' home at 700 Acacia, will also include time for further discussion of the proposed new zoning ordinance.

After the Bateman hearing and one or two other items of business the balance of the evening will be devoted to study of the zoning plan, with emphasis on the letters, questions, protests and petitions which have been received by City officials to date.

Additional study meetings will be announced at a later date.

C.H. James Chosen City's New Mayor

Louk Resignation Accepted By Council with Regret

Sierra Madre has a new mayor. He is Charles H. James, senior member of the City Council who was unanimously chosen at the Council meeting Feb. 23 to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Charles E. Louk who was named postmaster of Sierra Madre on Dec. 31.

Float Association To Elect Officers

New officers of the Sierra Madre Float Association will be elected tonight (Thursday) when members meet at the City School auditorium at 8 o'clock.

All persons who have subscribed $1.00 to the float fund are full fledged members and are entitled to a vote. Wm. Hawkins, president of the association emphasized this week.

Other features of the evening will be the showing of the official 1955 Tournament of Roses Parade in color and the acceptance of the trophy received by Sierra Madre as second place award in the New Year's Day event.

Treasure Hunt Outlined at Noon Meeting

Enthusiasm was the keynote of the Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting held at the Woman's Clubhouse last Thursday when plans were outlined for the Wistaria Treasure Hunt—a plan to reward Sierra Madre shoppers and visitors with free treasures.

More than 6,000 families living in Sierra Madre and vicinity will receive in the mail, letters from the Chamber of Commerce accompanied by a numbered tag. Somewhere in Sierra Madre's stores an article will be displayed which bears a corresponding number. When the shopper finds the duplicate number, he has found a treasure which he may take home as his gift.

James Wolfe, chairman of the event, pointed out that only one community in the whole world can boast a Wistaria Vine such as exists in Sierra Madre and that only Sierra Madre can have a Wistaria celebration.

Several hundred items will be given away to the lucky finders. He emphasizes there is no obligation to buy—that Sierra Madre's many friends are invited to come to its stores to "browse, shop, visit and have fun".

The exact date of the Treasure Hunt will be set as quickly as the date of the blooming of the vine can be determined.

To help with the promotion of the event, Lorne Pratt, representing the Wistaria Vine, announced that every Tuesday's gate receipts at the Vine will be donated to the Chamber of Commerce.

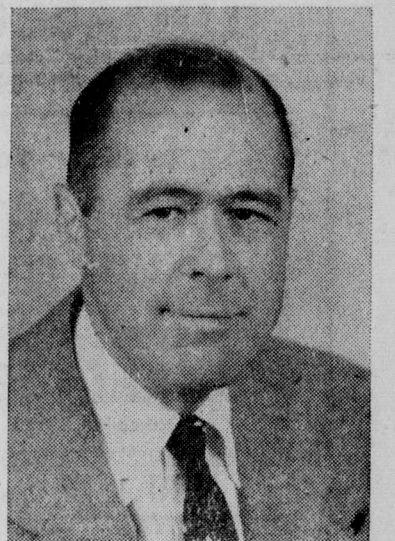

Questionnaires on Zoning Go to 1500 Sierra Madreans

During the week approximately 1500 Sierra Madre residents will receive questionnaires concerning a dozen of the most vital points covered in the new zoning ordinance. The questionnaire is being prepared by Councilman Lorne Pratt in an effort to obtain information from the largest number of persons in the shortest length of time.

Those receiving questionnaires are asked to fill them out and to return them as soon as possible after their receipt. Sampling public opinion by use of the questionnaire takes from 2 to 3 weeks from the time the questions are sent out. The sooner they are returned to home port, the quicker an analysis can be made.

Here are the questions:

1. Are you familiar with the proposed zoning ordinance?
2. Does it affect your property or interest?
3. If so, how?
4. What is your opinion concerning home occupation?
5. Do you run a part-time business from your home?
6. If so, what type business and what equipment is needed for its operation?
7. Do you believe Sierra Madre should be primarily a residential area for single family dwellings?
8. What is your opinion on multiple dwellings within the City of Sierra Madre?
9. What is your opinion on guest homes, convalescent homes, homes for the aged, etc?
10. Do you believe Sierra Madre needs more commercial business area?
11. Do you believe Sierra Madre needs more light manufacturing area?
12. Please give any comments you may have concerning zoning or the proposed ordinance.

CHARLES H. JAMES

Henry Korsmeier in April, 1954, told the NEWS this week that he had enjoyed the time spent on the Council.

"It's been a real challenge. I should like to have remained with the job until the zoning ordinance was finished, but since this could not be done, I shall always look upon my work with the Council as one of the most interesting I have experienced," he said.

Parents Hold Meetings on Youth Projects

More than forty parents were present for the first meeting of the Co-ordinating Council and the City Recreation department held last Thursday for the purpose of discussing ways and means of providing better recreational facilities for the boys and girls of high school age in this area.

Among the many subjects studied was the matter of a clubhouse where teenagers could meet in an atmosphere of healthy fun. As a result of the initial meeting, some parents accompanied by four teenagers visited a successful club in Hawthorne to learn more about the operation of such a group.

On Monday night another meeting of interested parents was held at the home of the Marcus Woodwards for the purpose of choosing committees to study the various phases in the structure of a financially sound, comprehensive, representative and permanent organization.

The aim of the committee is to "establish a framework about which the teenagers themselves can develop their own organization and activities."

Mrs. Edith Dane, president of the Co-ordinating Council said that it is not the intention of the parents to "take over". "We are anxious to hear the teenager's viewpoint on the project and as soon as our committees are set up on Mar. 9, we are planning a special meeting for the teenagers at which time they will be urged to participate in the planning of the program," Mrs. Dane said.

"Share Your City's Beauty"—Kalicka

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles by the author of the proposed new zoning ordinance.

By K. KALICKA

Many of the defects and deficiencies of present day zoning ordinances and the unsatisfactory experience of some communities with zoning are due, in a large degree, to the lack of a clear understanding of the nature of zoning, its scope and limitations and its place as a part of community planning. ZONING MUST BE COMPREHENSIVE and necessarily must be based on the entire community and not merely on one segment of it.

Comprehensiveness in zoning is the fitting of the zoning plan and regulations to EXISTING CONDITIONS IN, AND THE FUTURE REQUIREMENTS OF, the community and its various parts. This neither means that a community should be so irrevocably tied to the past that it ignores the changing social and economic forces in the community that rather than adjusting gradually to these changes it stays still and gradually decays, nor does it mean that it should ignore the conditions of the present to a degree where the desires of the citizenry are ignored and ridden over "rough shod". Obviously, there is a point of compromise between these two points that CAN and MUST be met if a zoning plan is to serve the property owners. While, technically, such a plan might not reflect the best zoning pattern from a professional point of view, unless it reflects the reasonable desires of the citizenry it will prove to be an unwelcome plan no matter how technically correct it may be.

Many citizens have asked, upon what basis much of the zoning was determined. Such a question, though answerable, is not possible of a simple answer. While basically the art of zoning is an exact science, its application to specific lands under certain conditions is not necessarily capable of an exacting answer. Only experience and knowledge of property as it relates to zoning dictates some of the decisions made on a zoning map. It is, therefore, only natural that there should arise some reasonable and logical differences as to what the zoning should be in certain instances. In such cases THE DESIRES OF THE PROPERTY OWNERS SHOULD BE PARAMOUNT TO THE PROFESSIONAL DECISION BUT ONLY SO LONG AS THEY ARE CLEARLY NOT CONTRARY TO THE INTEREST OF THE CITY AS A WHOLE.

Sierra Madre is basically a single-family residential community endowed by nature with an aesthetic value not readily equalled. Its beautiful setting is the cause for most of its residents and justifiably these persons are zealous in preserving the attributes of Sierra Madre. But it must be remembered that nature's gifts are not the exclusive possession of individuals or groups—they belong to everyone. It is also recognized, however, that over-development and excessive densities destroy the very thing so desirable in areas such as Sierra Madre, and it is not intended that a literal application of the term "everyone" be applied. It is merely being pointed out that the City of Sierra Madre can accommodate uses other than single-family residences; that many persons living in apartments or courts

City of Hope Program to be Celebrated Monday, March 7

Twenty years of fund-raising efforts for City of Hope will be celebrated when members of Los Angeles' Merchants Club gather at their annual banquet Monday evening, Mar. 7 at the Ambassador's Embassy Room.

High point of their year's activities on behalf of the free, nonsectarian national medical center, the dinner is expected to attract more than 1000 leaders of the apparel industry, according to Seymour Graff, Merchants' president.

Comedian George Gobel will head the entertainment portion of the evening, Mannie Fine-man, dinner chairman, announced.

Working as a team, the Merchants Club has grown in membership and contributions apace with Southern California's apparel industry, to become one of the top fund-raising chapters of the City of Hope.

From its first year, when a handful of members presented a check for $2900 to the National Medical Center, to last year's $100,000, the group has aligned itself with every major expansion undertaken by the City of Hope.

Milton C. Agate is serving as chairman of the advanced gifts committee, assisted by Murray Webber.

Director Warns About Unvented Gas Heaters

In the midst of the winter season, Director of Industrial Relations Paul Scharrenberg has again issued a warning to all residents on the dangerous use of unvented gas heaters. Each winter many men, women, and children die unnecessarily from carbon monoxide poisoning or burns received from open-flame unvented heaters.

A necessary precaution before placing heating equipment in use is to have it checked and adjusted.

A few other simple rules should be observed. Before retiring turn off the heater. Leave windows open to admit a sufficient amount of air. Do not use the oven for room heating.

These factors contributed heavily to the consideration given by the Legislature in adopting amendments to the State Housing Act in 1951, prohibiting use of unvented non-approved gas appliances.

Exchange Club Has Youth Program

The members of the Exchange Club of Sierra Madre are conforming to the policy of the National Club by promoting youth activities.

Chairman of the Youth Activities Committee, Robert Thomas, reported to President Arnold Rogstad at the last meeting, that the Exchange Club was represented by five members at a recent meeting held to arouse interest in the very necessary fund-raising drive for the Boy Scouts.

The Club has also become sponsor of a fifth grade Camp Fire Girls group, Ha-Ha-Wo-To, under the direction of Mrs. Gleam Drury.

The Exchange Club is joining with all the other local civic and service groups to develop some type of recreational center for the teenagers. The latter necessitates the fullest cooperation with the teenagers and their parents in order to be successful, and all are urged to attend future meetings.

FIRE FLAMES

By JAMES HEASLEY

We who live in Sierra Madre little realize the terrific fire loss each year of the Nation. Just imagine more than $800,000,000 gone up in smoke and flames! That's the figure of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and it should be accurate.

Much of this loss includes large industry fires. This report warns commercial establishments of the danger of permitting hazardous conditions to exist. Not only is valuable material lost, but lives of valuable people. Home fires have been disastrous throughout the country. Many lives are lost, including innocent children unable to help themselves.

Fires start so easily. Thoughtlessly placing a burning cigarette on a shelf or any place where it can simmer long enough to reach an inflammable object will be the start of a fire that can reach major proportions. The cigarette is blamed, and justly so, for many fires. It is difficult to convince some of this fact, and we can only urge people to believe us in our plea for caution with their smokes.

The worst offenders are those who risk smoking in bed. Sound sleep becomes so sound that many have never awakened.

The local firemen continue to meet and drill at regular intervals. A study of the water pressure supply to the local hospital was given a thorough study last drill. Two crews permit us to accomplish two style drills in the same evening.

Following the drill, the business meeting presented problems of all sorts. The matter of bringing the meeting rooms to a more presentable appearance is now in process. Paint has been ordered and a contract with a floor-finisher is underway. The floors will be sanded and re-finished. When this has been accomplished, we expect to have visitors to see the results.

After that we may prevail upon the good nature of the men to arrange to have the station decorated so that when the school children visit, and the passers-by look, they will see that Sierra Madre really has a fire department.

One of our men and his wife were seated at breakfast before a large window. The window focused into a similar window across the street.

"No matter what the temperature or the season, that young woman across the way, takes a cold shower every morning and every night," the wife said.

"Yes," replied the husband, "and I've noticed she manages to stand up under it beautifully."

(And tha's enuff for to-day!)

There was a dilly of an error in the last column that appeared in the paper. Remember I was looking into a crystal ball, and I predicted that Ohio State would be back again next year to play UCLA in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day? The Buckeyes will probably be capable of coming back, but we overlooked the rule stating that no team can come back to the Rose Bowl two years in a row.

So although Ohio State will probably win the Big Ten again, but won't be able to come back, we're going to pick Purdue with its great quarterback Leonard Dawson to be out here next year playing UCLA New Year's Day.

Pasadena High School, after making a sad showing in basketball, is hoping to make up for it during the coming baseball season. The Bulldog starting lineup will practically resemble the 1954 American Legion Post 13 team. These following players all played for Post 13 last summer . . . Jim Hezlep and Don Giess will undoubtedly be the top pitchers. Look for Hezlep to make at least Honorable Mention on the All-CIF team. Dan McMann and Jerry Warnick both great first basemen, will alternate frequently. Jerry Van Meter will see plenty of action at the key-stone sack. Laury "Scooter" Cavalier will probably dominate the shortstop position most of the time. Lannie Johnson will hold down the third base sack without too much trouble of opposition. In the left field pastures will be Jan Brumley, in center the great Dutch Wing, and in right field we're not sure, but it might be Dick Carter.

Incidentally, all these boys besides being on the Post 13 team, are all second year men. It's too bad they're not in a league until next year, because they are going to be great this season.

Laury "Scooter" Cavalier, is the only Sierra Madre boy who has really made any progress on the team. Laury, who hustles around the shortstop position like a nudist in a briar patch, is hoping to play ball when he goes in the Army, which he'll be in for three years, after that he hopes to hit the big time.

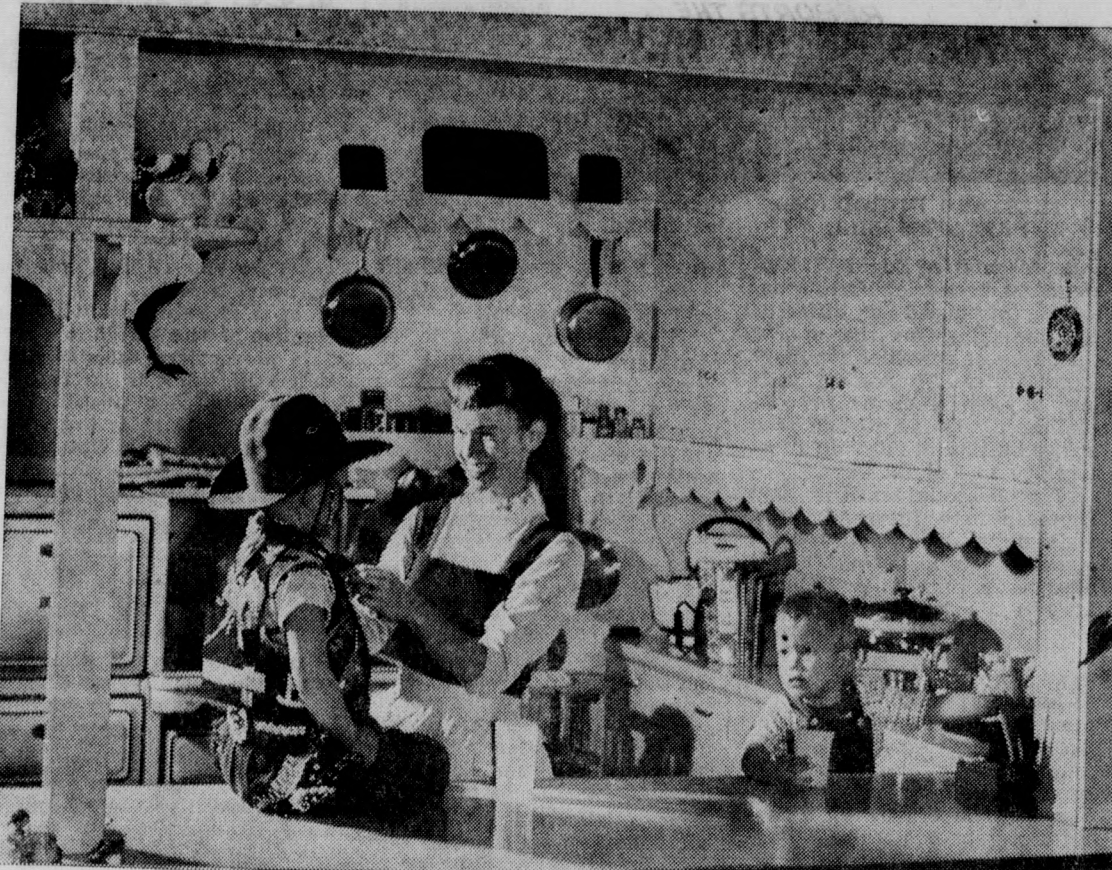

The Pasadena High baseball coach, Bob Bastian, when asked what he thought of "Scooter" replied: "He may not be able to hit his weight, but he has a great pair of hands." (That ought to warm Laury's liver.)

What's this about Joe McCarthy going to investigate the Cincinnati Reds?

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin M. Cody of Flint, Mich., will arrive in Sierra Madre soon to spend a month with Col. and Mrs. Charles R. Gildart, 531 Elm. Mrs. Cody is Col. Gildart's sister.

Mrs. America Contest Gains Momentum

A 25-year-old homemaker, who is the mother of two boys, recently became the newest entrant in the local contest to select the next Mrs. California and Mrs. America. She is Mrs. Sally Matson, 250 W. Highland. Her two children, Steven, 4½, and Dan, 2, agree with husband, Don, that it's "just wonderful that Mommy soon may become the most admired woman in town." Matson is a landscape architect in Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Matson, along with seven other local entrants in the 17th annual Mrs. America contest, will be judged for efficiency in homemaking and personal attractiveness, come March 22.

At that time all contestants will bring in a cake of their own making which, if they win and become Mrs. Sierra Madre, they will have to prepare in public as part of the regional finals, second step toward becoming Mrs. America.

The local contest is being sponsored by the Sierra Madre Exchange Club.

When interviewed at her charming home one recent morning, Mrs. Matson was completing her housework, while caring for her youngest son, who is recovering from an illness.

Baking is one of the petite homemaker's hobbies. Evidence of another of Mrs. Matson's pet projects—redecorating and sewing—was in the furnishings of the one-story home.

"The next thing we want to do," she said, "is paint the interior . . . but how I'll keep the children out of the paint is another matter!" The house is a former school house which was moved to the present location about 25 years ago. The Matsons have been busily redecorating and remodeling during the 18 months they have had the home.

Aside from homemaking interests, Mrs. Matson enjoys swimming in the family pool, a hobby which she shares with her husband. The couple are popular members of Sierra Madre's young married set, and frequently entertain in their home.

All homemakers are reminded that entries for the contest may be sent in as late as March 5.

Annual Hobby Show Slated for April 22

Here's the big call for hobbyists. For the seventh year, the Annual California Hobby Show has invited local residents with a flair for collecting or creating anything from rare gems to flying saucers to exhibit in the nation's oldest and largest hobby event.

No exhibit fees or space charges will be made to the thousands of participants in the April 22 through May 1 extravaganza at the Shrine Exposition Hall, Los Angeles.

Among the exhibits already scheduled by local hobbyists are $3,500,000 worth of leathercraft, art, antique autos, model railroads, photography, wood carving, unusual dolls, pipes, plastics, and scientific exhibits of all kinds.

"This year we are adding a third floor to the Exposition Hall—to accommodate the hobbyists we have had to decline because of past space limitations," Show Director Fred J. Tabery said.

Almost 100,000 square feet of space will be devoted to outstanding hobby exhibits in the annual "fashion show of hobbies," Tabery concluded.

Interested exhibitors may write the California Hobby Show, 3443 S. Hill St., Los Angeles, or telephone PRospect 6126.

124 Donors to Blood Program

Despite colds and bad weather, one hundred and twenty-four Sierra Madreans donated blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visited the City Feb. 16.

Eleven persons gave blood here for the first time and eight Sierra Madreans received their gallons pins. Receiving the coveted 4 quart pins were: Carl Bischoff, Dr. Daniel D'Arcy, Aaron Glaser, James Heasley, Jr., Mrs. Charles James, Dr. J. Stadden Miller, Roy Pickett and Wm. Volmert.

The names of the official workers assisting in promoting the Blood Program were announced last week. Others whose names were not available at our press time were Mrs. Hugh Colvin, Mrs. Wm. M. Hawkins, Jr., Mrs. Robt. Eastman, Mrs. Robert Bettencourt, Paul Burton and Michael O'Donnell.

Dr. Norman S. Johnson, Dr. Jack Gilbert and Larry Lomax represented the Sierra Madre Medical Center at the Blood Bank, Mrs. Ralph Jones, chairman, Mrs. Robert Bettencourt, said this week.

Alan Mowbray 'In the Spirit' At Playhouse

Alan Mowbray premieres his new comedy, "In the Spirit," at the Pasadena Playhouse starting Thursday, March 3.

It will be the Playhouse debut of the noted actor-scribe, who will also direct the production. In his central role as a "ghost," he will cut capers in an English country house, wherein resides an assortment of interesting, amusing people. Among them are a stuffy Britisher, his twittry wife, and their pretty sensible daughter; a brash, young American scientist, and a jaded socialite, also from the Yankee banks. Mowbray moves among the lot with a faint clanking of chains and a large number of wistful wisecracks.

With him in the Playhouse staging will be an all-professional cast including Nicholas Joy, Walter Coy, Judith Brian, Rhodes Reason, Patricia Mowbray (his daughter), Edward Stidder and Virginia Pohlman.

Cup Pack 381, of Sierra Madre, presented each of its dens with a new American flag at the meeting held Feb. 18 at the Sierra Madre school.

Frazer Dougherty and Arthur Hewitt, having completed their Cub Scouting, with enviable records of achievement, said "Goodbye" to their friends in Cub work, and took the big step into the ranks of the Boy Scouts. Stephen Maloney was inducted into Cub Scouting at this meeting.

Skills on the various phases of the development of our flag were the closing highlight of the evening.

Byron Hopper provided the piano music, with his usual good grace, and was assisted, during part of the program by his son.

Help is needed to assist in putting on a drive to raise enough money to continue

The Editors,
 Sierra Madre NEWS:

Re-Zoning in Sierra Madre

The February 24th number of the Sierra Madre News carries on its front page the notice that the third and last hearing before the members of the City Planning Commission, on the subject of proposed re-zoning, will be held soon and that there will be in addition two public hearings on the same subject before the City Council.

Your newspaper has fully covered the first two hearings and it should therefore be obvious to you that one more hearing before the Planning Commission will be entirely inadequate. The Planning Commission is the fact-finding body for the City Council and the former's findings and conclusions carry great weight before the latter.

The first two meetings were almost entirely spent on the single question of a change in the "home occupation" ordinance. We had the impression that that discussion was interrupted, rather than exhausted, by the sudden eruption of a question on the proposed re-zoning, namely about the proposed changes affecting Sierra Madre Blvd. on the South side between Michillinda and Park; those proposed changes affecting the North-East corner of Mariposa and Michillinda; and those affecting Michillinda between Mariposa and Sierra Madre Blvd.

All these proposed changes will be hotly protested against by all home owners of that purely R-1 zone.

One point of the proposed re-zoning has already provoked indignation of people around it in the past—and that is the proposed change from R-1 to C (general commercial) of the South-East corner of Sierra Madre Blvd. and Michillinda. This revolting idea was emphatically turned down by the Planning Commission and the City Council about a year ago, after the outraged protests of the same residents of the area, and now it is raising its head again.

The foregoing prompts us to ask you kindly to make room in your newspaper for letters from people concerned, for a campaign as follows:

1. To have more hearings before the Planning Commission before decisions are reached;
2. To space these meetings at least two weeks apart. In order to allow the only Sierra Madre newspaper to report the problem to all residents and to give space and opportunity to them to air their views in your newspaper.
3. To urge the Planning Commission to hold the public hearings at the School, where there will be more room for people wanting to attend.
4. To urge the Planning Commission to place the large map of the proposed zone changes where everyone at the meetings can see it, instead of only the few seated in front of or beside it.

At the last hearing there came a suggestion from the Chair about moving the meeting to the School that night, but a crowd should not be moved once it has assembled. The Planning Commission, after seeing the great public concern in this matter, should designate the school as the place for subsequent hearings and have this map properly erected before the hearings start.

Let us remember that the average home owner does not ordinarily follow the moves made by a City for changes in zoning and ordinances and does not become aware of them until the suggested changes are published. When his home and his life investments are jeopardized, he should, in all fairness, be given enough time and hearing adequately to present and defend his views and his interests.

(Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Freed, property owners in R-1 zone).

February 19, 1954.

To the Editor,

Sierra Madre News.

Dear Sir,

In the open hearing of the planning commission last week, there was discussion of the boys who would be placed in the proposed home as coming under subdivision "B", but there was not a very clear explanation of that classification. The following is copied from JUVENILE LAWS OF CALIFORNIA, Section 23, B.:

"Person under twenty-one years of age who has no parent or guardian, or no parent or guardian willing to exercise or capable of exercising proper parental control; or who has no parent or guardian actually exercising proper parental control and who is in need of such control."

In other words, boys classified in "B" could be any juvenile without parental control. There is nothing which says it does not include boys who have committed crimes or acts of violence. Perhaps the small support which Mr. Bateman had at the meeting would not have been there, had they understood the full meaning of the classification. The people of Sierra Madre should fully understand.

Very truly yours,
 Wilbur G. Evans
 360 Foothill Ave.

Editor's Note: Although the classification "B" was not thoroughly explained at the meeting of the Planning Commission, the above quotation from the Juvenile Laws of California was carried in essence in the Feb. 17 issue of the NEWS in a page 1 story.

Vignettes

Virginia Pittinger

At a recent lecture on international affairs at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium, a distinguished American editor, Dr. Erwin D. Canham, said that what we need in addition to our Voice of America program is another called the Ear of America. For, he suggested, we need to listen to the vital things that other countries are continually trying to tell us about themselves. And I agree.

One of these things—and one that a traveler in Europe hears everywhere—is the plea of the people that they be allowed a chance to earn their own way. Perhaps, if this plea were heeded in America and given the measure of credence it merits, there would be fewer opportunities for the reluctant American taxpayer to refer bitterly to the ingratitude and laziness of the nations that take his dollars. The grumbling taxpayer assumes first that his alms are indispensable, and then that the recipients of his unwilling largesse are raking in their benefits with fiendish eagerness while they laugh at him for being a sucker. This is a dangerously false picture of the real situation.

It is dangerous because it shows an utter lack of understanding on the part of Americans at a time when understanding should be the very fabric of their friendship with the free world. It is dangerous because it leads us to attempt to solve an unprecedented problem of economic healing and rebuilding from the outside by donations, instead of from within by the stimulation of trade.

This was brought home most forcibly to us in Italy as we followed the route our advancing armies had taken from their beachheads at Salerno and Anzio during the last war. We saw along the way many heartbreaking evidences of burned out, blown up and caved in buildings that had once been shops and homes. The

HIESTAND INTRODUCES NARCOTICS BILL

Representative Edgar W. Hiestand, 21st District, California, today introduced a different Bill providing for the drastic stiffening of penalties for those found guilty of importing, selling, buying, receiving or concealing and facilitating the transportation of narcotic drugs contrary to Federal Law.

"The narcotic traffic," said Representative Hiestand, "is a Federal problem because it is essentially an interstate, almost an international problem. My Bill is a drastic one. It provides, first of all, for the transfer of the responsibilities and powers of the Bureau of Narcotics from the Customs Department of the Treasury to the Justice Department. This problem, in my judgment, has become much more of a law enforcement problem than a mere collection of customs problem, and it should be backed by the entire power of the Department of Justice, including the Federal Bureau of Investigation. These law enforcement agencies have the power of investigation, the power of prosecution, and I am convinced we shall not be able adequately to enforce these laws until we make them a responsibility of the Attorney General.

"The measure I recommend includes public health clinics for drug addicts. This should be of course, under the direction of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. All of the resources of the medical profession should be concentrated in these clinics and institutions. The problem can and must be met. It is a national problem. Cooperative measures, however, are provided that the relationship between the Federal Government and the State, County and community institutions can be complete.

No Probation

"Penalties for narcotics peddlers have been severely stiffened by my Bill. Anyone found guilty of importing, selling, buying, receiving, concealing or facilitating the transportation of narcotic drugs is subject to fine of $3000 and five to 10 years' imprisonment. For second offenders, $5000 and 10 to 20 years' imprisonment are ordered, and for third offenders, life imprisonment. The measure specifically provides that there shall be no suspension of sentences and no probation for second and third offenders.

"Penalties for sale of narcotics to minors," continued Congressman Hiestand, "are a shops were now operating in new, modern structures built after the war with American funds, and the people whose homes had been destroyed were living in simple multiple housing units erected with the same funds.

Since the end of the war millions of American dollars have been poured into Italy for reconstruction and rehabilitation. Yet, more frequently than we cared to see, the hammer and sickle shouted from the new walls that we had built, and peasants trudging along the roads greeted us with the raised, clenched fists that mark the Communist everywhere.

With the best intentions in the world, obviously, you cannot heal and rebuild a sick nation from the outside—with bread, bricks or mortar or money. At the best you create a nation of resentful debtors; at worst a nation of willing paupers.

There is no doubt that these aids were necessary at one time. They fulfilled a desperate need. And none will ever be able to withhold from the American people the credit for their generous, unhesitating change from conqueror and destroyer to friends and re-builder.

But the time comes when every sick man must begin to help himself if he is ever to be really well. And it is the same with countries. What they need now is freedom to trade, and to trade more freely with us. It is no longer wise for us to maintain tariff barriers that isolate us from the world market and keep our friends from realizing the increased prosperity that healthy world trade brings.

Besides, far from injuring us, relaxed trade policies should strengthen our economy along with that of our allies, increase our stature in the eyes of the world, and thus happily weaken our enemies.

This is one moment in history when it would be of benefit to heed the statement of the ancient philosopher who said, "The noblest charity is to prevent a man from accepting charity; and the best alms are to show and to enable a man to dispense with alms."

Naturally, we cannot use letters which are abusive or unsigned. We not only invite, but encourage you to use our "Letters to the Editor" column.

In considering the plan for a boys' home on the eastern edge of our town, I think we should be less concerned about property values and more about boy values. Juvenile delinquency has become a national headache. This plan looks like a sincere effort to take 20 little boys—12 years old or less—out of surroundings encouraging to delinquency and into a good home and moral atmosphere. All of us agree that is a fine idea, but some of us stoutly aver that this is the wrong place for it. As I heard one gentleman say, the slogan of some of us seems to be "Suffer little children to come unto anyone else but us."

I think Mr. Deutsch is unduly alarmed. We had a children's home, accommodating children considerably older and more likely to cause trouble. Those children were in our schools and played quite a part in our community life, and the town was so sorry to see the home closed that Larry Garland led an earnest effort to have it reopened. Mr. Garland had employed and still employs graduates of that children's home and says it made mighty good citizens of them, and scores of other Sierra Madreans can testify similarly. I believe that home operated successfully for 30 years, doing the community nothing but good and certainly doing the children a lot of good. During the month before it closed many of its "graduates" who had grown up and married proudly came back to visit it, bringing their families. Wouldn't our town have felt ashamed if it had denied those children their chance?

Mr. Deutsch has a point in what he says about the advantages of foster homes. But where are those foster homes? Possibly he and other protesters have some plans for providing them, which would put a different face on the matter. But unless there are such plans, I think we should hesitate to shut our doors against such an effort to save 20 little boys from contact with delinquency. That would be like saying: "Let somebody else do it," without knowing who or where that somebody else is.

I've always liked James Whitcomb Riley's jingle: "I think children's always good if they're only understood. Even bad uns, seems to me, is just as good as they can be." One great cause of delinquency is that many children CAN'T be good because of the conditions under which they grow up. It is hard to find any boy under 12 who is not so eager to be loved and admired that his better qualities will respond to wise, competent and moral training, but some never get it.

So, though I admire the courteous, logical and effective argument of Mr. Deutsch, I feel that had he had as much contact with our previous children's home as most of us old residents he would be much less perturbed. Twenty little boys, on a 36-acre ranch, aren't going to be a menace. True, the properties I own are some distance from the proposed site, but one of my sons, who has four small children, owns property much closer—and I was close enough to the former children's home to see a great deal of it. I would like the idea that our town was welcoming 20 youngsters, with great potentialities for either good or bad, into an atmosphere which would give them every chance to develop their best. The Planning Commission might well limit the number of boys, but with such protection the plan looks good to me.

An Open Letter of Vital Importance to:

THE CITY PLANNING COMMISSION,
 THE CITY COUNCIL, and THE PEOPLE OF SIERRA MADRE

This advertising space has been purchased by a group of property owners in order that they might express themselves regarding the proposed home for wards of the juvenile court on the Howarth property at the end of Acacia Street. As property owners and taxpayers, we are protesting a zoning variance which would permit this home to be established. This area is strictly one of single family dwellings, and such a home would greatly depreciate the value of all surrounding property for some distance. The Whitnall Company, retained by the City to make recommendations regarding zoning, stated that, regarding such a variance, the planning commission should follow the wishes of the property owners. Signatures of almost all of the property owners in the adjacent neighborhood representing sixty five different pieces of property were on petitions to the commission to deny the variance. A large number of those people were present at the open hearing of the commission, and had a spokesman who brought out many reasons why the home should not be allowed in this location. A motion by Commissioner Pratt to deny the variance failed by a three to three vote, so the matter was carried over to the March meeting.

It is the stated intention of those who would establish the home to start with twenty boys, ages 6 to 12. If the operation was successful, more boys would be added and there would be no limitation on the length of time they would be kept or to what age.

The property in question is in an extreme fire hazard area. Twenty or more boys, some of whom may not have had proper parental guidance in what is right and what is wrong, playing on that property, would certainly increase the fire risk, not only for that property, but for the entire upper part of Sierra Madre.

Sierra Madre Schools are already crowded. We are soon to be asked to take a 60% increase in school tax rate to meet present needs. Each additional thirty children make it necessary to add one more teacher. Twenty boys from this one property, and probably more later, would increase the school budget at the expense of the taxpayers of Sierra Madre. We have been told that the property, under this home setup, would be tax-free, thereby further increasing the burden for the rest of us.

Services required for such a home would increase the traffic on the streets approaching it. These are narrow streets, and as there are no sidewalks, it is necessary for the children as well as the adults to walk in the street. Additional traffic would greatly increase the accident hazard.

The property is not a good place for such an institution. The terrain is rough and hazardous. There is danger from Poison Oak and Rattlesnakes as well as from fire. The road into the property is narrow and winding and would be difficult to navigate with heavy fire apparatus if it were needed.

Changes in zoning should be for the purpose of benefiting the property owners and the city as a whole. We realize that it is necessary, in our society, to provide homes for these children who are wards of the Juvenile Court. We sincerely believe that this proposed location is not right for it and that the possible advantages derived from it would be greatly overshadowed by the decrease in property values, the increase in school burden, the added fire hazard, and the other points mentioned.

We Urge the Planning Commission to Deny the Variance.

Dr. Peterson Visits Son in Angwin

Dr. M. H. A. Peterson of Sierra Madre was the guest of his son Robert Peterson at Pacific Union College's biennial Father-Son Banquet, Sunday evening, Feb. 27. Robert is a Junior student at the Angwin, Calif., Seventh-day Adventist liberal arts college.

The Honorable Caspar J. Wineberger, California assemblyman, was the guest speaker. His talk was entitled "The Honorable Profession of Politics." Using material taken from a survey he conducted, Wineberger pointed out that most parents do not want their children to enter politics. He defended political life as a profession which should attract the best products of American colleges.

In accordance with college tradition, fathers of men students are honored every two years with a banquet. This year's dinner drew guests from several states outside California to the hilltop college.

College women assisted at the affair as waitresses. On alternate years they hold a similar dinner in honor of their mothers.

Mediterranean Tearing Up Sea Walls—Just Like Home—Skutts

Feb. 19—French Riviera Since leaving Marseille yesterday, we've been experiencing this famous area, — north from the Alps. So while the sun shines and the water is blue in several shades, the Mediterranean is tearing up the sea walls in great breakers. Stones three and four inches in diameter are thrown into the air and crash down on the promenades. It looks like a storm in high tide at the Long Beach sea wall.

Ironically Menton began its week long Fete of the Citron yesterday, it's orange show. There was to be music and dancing on the promenades, but the water is lashing at the temporary bleachers so that some have been torn down. Visitors console themselves by thinking, "It's worse at home!"

We enjoyed our visit to Carcassonne, a fortified city of the Middle Ages. It has an outer and inner wall with a deep moat between, draw bridges and 57 towers in the walls. The castle has a separate wall, moat and drawbridge within the city. It wasn't pleasant to see the dungeon with its stake in the center to which prisoners were chained. Or to see the "Justice Tower" where the inquisitions were held.

The whole city is actually a museum, although people live in the houses that line its tiny streets. They are not allowed to change anything without written permission from the authorities.

We go next to Genoa by bus along the Italian Riviera. The Skutts.

To start off Girl Scout Week, Mar. 6-12, 18 of the new Second Class Scouts of Troop 22, will go to church for the first time as a unit. The Troop has been invited by the Rev. Raynor Smith to attend services especially planned for them at the Church of Our Redeemer (Methodist) on Sunday, Mar. 6.

To celebrate Scout Week also, a record of Troop 22's activities from handcraft projects as Brownies to the scrapbooks prepared for Second Class Rank requirements, will be on display during the week in Garland's window. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tate, Mrs. Charles Fretz, and Mrs. Douglas Kring, all parents of Troop members, will create the display.

With every member having achieved Second Class Rank and having received their badges at the recent Court of awards, Troop 22 Scouts are starting to work for their individual Proficiency Badges and continuing other activities. Rain on Sunday, Feb. 27, cancelled their scheduled Family Gathering and Picnic Trip to the CalPoly Horse Show at San Dimas.

However, at their Monday meeting this week, they filled 50 boxes (10 lbs.) with individually-wrapped suckers and toys (donated for the purpose by the Shopping Bag, Coronet Homes) for the Communicable Disease Unit of the Los Angeles County General Hospital, as part of their community service. This is a continuation of a project they started as Brownies to help fill the never-ending need for toys and other means of entertainment that contribute to a more speedy recovery of patients confined in the unit.

Camp Fire Girls Start Peanut Sale Mar. 18

Beginning Mar. 18, the San Gabriel Valley area Camp Fire Girls and Blue Bird organizations start their third annual Peanut Sale.

Proceeds from this sale are to be used to help with the expenses of enlarging the kitchen and health house at their summer camp, Camp Wasegawagon, Seven Oaks, Calif., also toward obtaining water for their day camp, Camp Chiquota, Altadena. The girls must earn the money for these things themselves since all the necessary funds for camp are not available through Community Chest.

Supporting the efforts of the drive will also enable additional girls to attend camp.

The girls have the opportunity to earn money for their own group treasury and the San Gabriel Valley Camp Fire Association. Three cents, per can goes to each group, one cent, to the leaders association and the remaining profit to the Camp Fire Association.

Chairman of the Peanut Sale is Mrs. Phyllis Nordyke, assisted by Mrs. Jean Albright.

Letter to the Editor

Editor
Sierra Madre News

As a result of a considerable amount of effort on the part of many tennis enthusiasts last year, several tournaments were held which stirred up a lot of enthusiasm culminating in a match February 20 between a representative Sierra Madre team and one from Altadena. This was the first, it is presumed, of others to be played against other teams from neighboring communities and, being the first, was not as well organized as, we hope, those in the future will be. Consequently, only four doubles were played, all of which were, deservedly, won by Altadena.

Due to the condition of our local courts it was not possible for us Sierra Madreans to play host to our opponents as we would like to have done. Mrs. Paul Landwehr reserved two courts at the Arcadia public park, which has recently resurfaced eight courts.

The Sierra Madreans were at a disadvantage on the resurfaced courts, being accustomed to the poor surface of the local ones.

Many Sierra Madreans travel to the public courts of surrounding cities weekly rather than spoil their game by becoming accustomed to the poor condition of the local courts. Is it too much to hope that those in authority will acknowledge the need for providing reasonably good courts, and begin to achieve ways and means of financing the project?

Yours truly,
W. J. OWEN

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Nannie McQueen, Foxtown, Kentucky: How well I remember, January 6, 1888, when my father, A. C. McFarling moved through McKee, Ky., in two wagons pulled by an oxen team. There were five houses in McKee at that time and my father-in-law, Robert McQueen was born April 4, 1835 in a log cabin where the court house now stands. It was the only house in McKee at that time.

From Gerrit Alsum, Belflower, California: I remember when we lived near Randolph, Wisconsin on a farm. My brothers and I would watch surreys and top buggies go by. When we saw one with benches around the top we considered them well off indeed.

From Joe Vire, Monticello, Kentucky: I remember the old log schoolhouse with split log benches and puncheon floor had one redeeming feature. We spelled for "head marks."

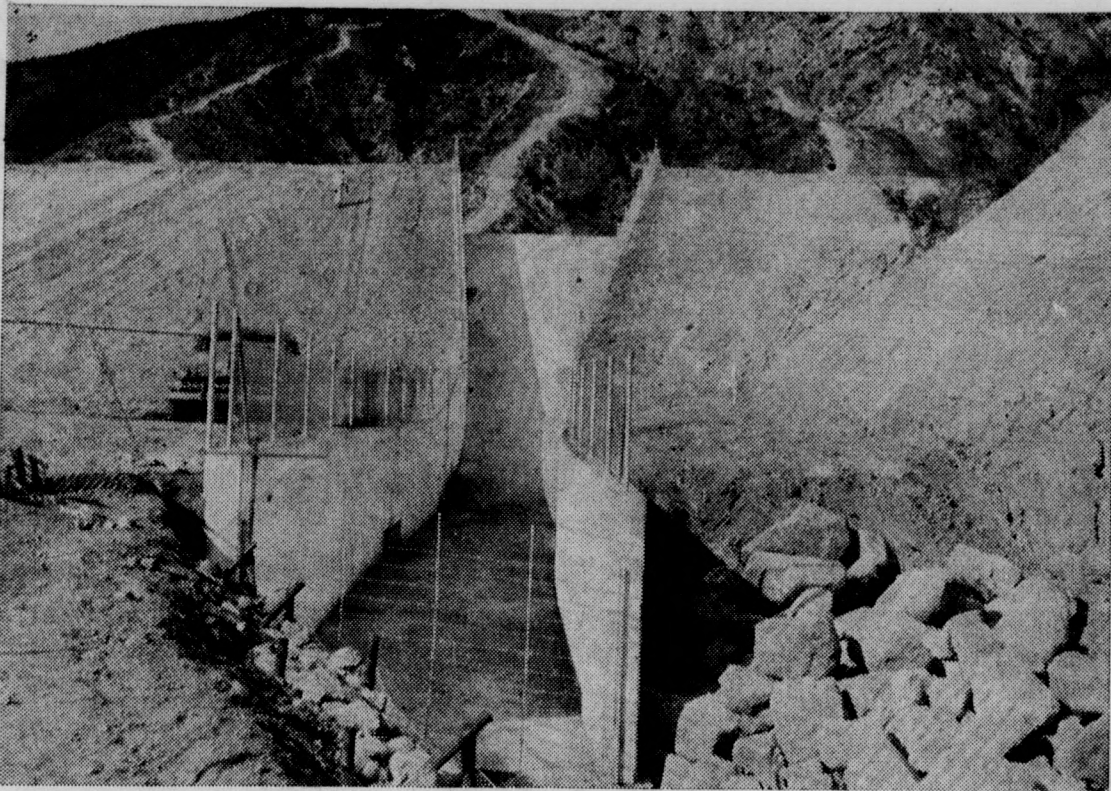

I have known more than one boy to spell a word correctly but refuse to go above the girl that missed it because Cupid was alive even in that remote age.

The lady from Wyoming mentioned (in your column) the itch in school. Where I went we had two kinds and one was the seven-year itch. If you were tough enough to scratch the seven-year itch you became immune and never had it again. That's the kind I had.

Flashing Red Lights on School Buses Important Warns Patrol

Highway Department Reports 1700 Citations Issued for Failure to Stop

Editor's Note: Considering the speed with which Sierra Madre's student population is growing, the speed of some of its motorists, and the lack of sidewalks in certain areas where children walk in the street, the following news release from the California Highway Patrol should be of interest to parents and motorists alike.

Flashing red lights on a school bus mean "Stop!" This warning was reiterated by the California Highway Patrol as they reviewed the record of citations issued during 1954.

"Although speed and driving too fast again led in the number of violations cited, there was an increasing number of drivers who seemed to misunderstand the school bus law," Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell declared.

"The law requires motorists to stop when approaching a stopped bus with red lights flashing before proceeding. 'During 1954 the Patrol cited almost 1700 motorists for failing to heed the flashing red lights on stopped school buses,' the Commissioner continued. 'With slightly different circumstances each of these violations could have taken the life of one or more school children.'

"The law is plain and requires all drivers approaching from either direction to stop when meeting a school bus with red lights flashing. The only exception is when the bus is on the opposite portion of a divided highway. Obey this regulation and help us protect our school children."

The Helena served as flagship for Vice Admiral Alfred M. Pride, USN, Commander, U. S. 7th Fleet, who directed the evacuation. The ship is scheduled to return to her home port of Long Beach, Calif., early in March.

- 1) Enhance the spiritual life of our people, giving active support to churches.
- 2) Champion human dignity, individual initiative and free enterprise.
- 3) Help to make our schools the finest possible training grounds for responsible citizenship.
- 4) Sponsor community activities and strengthen homes to combat delinquency and guide our boys and girls to sound maturity.
- 5) Work for effective highway safety.
- 6) Elect, support and recognize worthy public officials.
- 7) Provide leadership in the conservation and development of our natural resources.
- 8) Maintain and foster friendship, understanding and cooperation between Canada and the United States.
- 9) Strive with all our power to promote world peace and strengthen the United Nations.
- 10) Make Kiwanis 40th anniversary of service a challenge for greater achievement.

Programs at noon luncheon meetings and other events at scheduled intervals will be built around each one of these themes.

During January, Kiwanian Raynor Smith, who is pastor of the Church of Our Redeemer Methodist Church in Sierra Madre, gave an interesting address on the first listed objective at one of the Tuesday noon luncheon meetings. Championing human dignity, individual initiative and free enterprise will continue to be stressed.

President Burgess states: "Kiwanians believe in the free man; that a free man is a free citizen, a responsible, gentle, and spiritual man."

He invites all local business and professional men to visit the club, now in its 28th year here, at any of its regular Tuesday noon luncheons at the Woman's Clubhouse as guests of Kiwanis.

CANCER CRUSADE STARTS APRIL 11

Language barriers need not keep anyone from understanding life-saving facts about cancer, Mrs. George B. Holmes, Sierra Madre Unit Chairman of the forthcoming 1955 Cancer Crusade, which starts Apr. 11, pointed out today.

A leaflet describing cancer's Seven Danger Signals, which has been read by millions of English-speaking people across the country, is now available in Spanish. This leaflet lists the most common symptoms associated with cancer. While they do not always mean presence of the disease, appearance of one or more symptoms indicates the need for an immediate examination in a doctor's office.

Present statistics show, Mrs. Holmes points out, that many thousands of lives are lost needlessly from cancer because people seek medical help too late. She also emphasizes that most cancers can be cured if caught early before metastasis, or spreading of the disease occurs, and if proper treatment is begun promptly.

Besides the Seven Danger Signal leaflet in Spanish, another publication entitled

SIERRA MADRE NEWS—7
Thursday, March 3, 1955

"What Most People Don't Know About Cancer" is also available in Spanish, as well as in Italian, and Hebrew. Upon special request, it may be obtained in Polish, French, and Chinese as well.

Two of the American Cancer Society's Films, designed for group showings, are also produced in Spanish.

Requests for literature and inquiries about films should be directed to the American Cancer Society's Branch headquarters, 817 S. Western Ave., Los Angeles 5. All educational materials are offered free of charge.

Plans for the event, which will portray the Passion of Christ, are in charge of Stewart Matter who has announced that rehearsals will start in two weeks. He also will conduct the Oratorio, which is entitled: "The Seven Last Words of Christ."

Soloists will be Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson of Sierra Madre and Frank Small of Pasadena College. Mrs. Elizabeth Farrow will preside at the keyboard and a full orchestra will participate.

All singers and accomplished instrumentalists in Sierra Madre are invited to join the Oratorio. Those who wish may call Stewart Matter at CUster 5-9821 in the evenings or RYan 1-8047 during the day.

Mr. Skov will greet the boys and any parents who wish to attend in the sixth grade classroom, number 13, for the purpose of outlining plans for enrollment in the "Gra-Y" program sponsored by the Y.M.C.A.

According to Director Skov, 20 boys from the first three grades at City School already have become members in the Y.M.C.A. program and those in the higher grades who are interested in membership should be present at today's meeting.

West Point Film Shown at Kiwanis Meet

An Army film entitled "This Is West Point" was shown at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club by Col. Charles E. Morrison who described the development of American youth into United States Army officers.

Col. Morrison, who has lived in Sierra Madre since his retirement from the Army in 1948, also gave information as to how appointments to military and naval appointments are gained. A graduate of the Military Academy at West Point in 1918, Col. Morrison was a member of the instructing staff at West Point from 1924 to 1928 and served on the general staff in the European theater during World War II.

Other guests at the meeting were Elmer E. Anderson, past Kiwanis president from Arlington, Mass., Frank Roe of the Monrovia club, Otis Boone, and Edward Bateman.

Pharmacist Rudolph Hartman surprised his fellow members by attending the meeting after a long period of absence.

YOUR HEALTH

ASTHMA

Roy O. Gilbert, M.D.
Los Angeles County
Health Officer

Asthma is one of the oldest and most wretched afflictions known to man. Despite all advances in medical science during the past few decades, it has been estimated that two per cent of the people now living in America suffer from recurrent asthmatic attacks. This all too common disorder is a progressive one and, if untreated, may result in near-invalidism or even death.

Although this condition generally begins in childhood or early maturity, it may occur at any age. About one-third of all cases appear in children under 10 and but one per cent in people over 60 years of age. Asthma also seems to occur somewhat more frequently in men than in women.

Before the age of 35, asthma is generally caused by an allergy to various dusts, pollens, feathers, textiles, foods, animals or any one of many other things. An exquisitely sensitive individual, for instance, may react to any strong odor, such as that of fresh paint, perfumes, tobacco smoke, or some particular food. As a matter of fact, about 75 per cent of all asthmatic attacks in this particular age group are caused by allergies to substances that are inhaled or eaten.

Attacks that begin after 35, however, are usually caused by sensitivity (allergy) to some type of inner infection which may exist in the sinuses, teeth, gallbladder or other parts of the body. And, of course, an individual may have elements of both classes, and attacks then occur at any age.

Asthma may also be inherited. Studies show that 40 to 70 per cent of asthmatic children present a family history of asthma and 40 to 60 per cent of adults also give such a history.

The most common symptom of asthma is difficulty in breathing, which occurs because the air passages to and within the lungs are narrowed by swelling, constriction and excessive mucus. This is often accompanied by a feeling of suffocation and a sensation of heaviness and pressure within the chest, and the strenuous effort to get more air into the lungs produces the characteristic wheeze and cough of the asthmatic.

Treatment should first consist of removing the cause if it is at all possible. It is therefore advisable to get medical care promptly in order that the offending agent be discovered and eliminated. Vaccines also may help those individuals whose attacks are due to some outside allergen.

Certain drugs, including a few antibiotics, are particularly helpful in treating asthma that is caused by some infection within the body, but they are not cures. They do give relief from attacks, however, for periods that last from a few days to several months.

The asthmatic has to be more than usually careful in looking after himself and good health habits are imperative. An adequate, well-balanced diet and plenty of rest are essential and emotional upsets should be avoided when ever possible. While people afflicted with asthma now get more medical help than ever before in history, a lot is still up to them.

For printed information on asthma, send a card of request to the Los Angeles County Health Department, 241 North Figueroa street, Los Angeles, 12.

Congressman Edgar Hiestand Expresses Views on Formosa

Predicts Chinese Communists Will Not Attempt to Attack Island

Last Fall when I returned from Southeast Asia, I stuck my neck 'way out and stated categorically that the Chinese Communists could not and would not take Formosa, and that they would not even attempt to attack it. I haven't changed that opinion.

I never have pretended to be a military man, but this seems just common sense. No amphibious attack can be successful without two things: thousands of ships and complete control of the sea and supply lines, and thousands of planes and complete control of the air. These the Communists do not have and cannot get. Any dark night they can successfully land troops on any of the small islands lying within a mile or two of the coast by throwing a few hundred sampans and junks around them. These little islands would be impossible to defend and any attempt would be the height of folly. But, Formosa is one hundred miles off shore and the Pescadores about sixty, and our great 7th

Fleet has been heavily augmented.

Whether it is worthwhile to defend Quemoy is, in my judgment, purely a military question. Quemoy is a large island about 3 miles off shore, and commands the great Port of Amoy. It is heavily defended by a strong force of Nationalists troops well trained, and well equipped, and can be covered and supplied from Formosa as the faraway small islands and the Tachens cannot.

The big defeat that the Communists suffered when they tried to take Quemoy in 1949, seems largely to have been forgotten. Maybe most Americans never heard of it. The Communists tried to attack it from the mainland and lost two whole divisions in the attempt. The Nationalists threw them off with tremendous losses. The Matsu situation is very similar. It is a large island close to the port of Kwochow. It can also be covered by air and naval supply lines from Formosa. The Formosa Resolution passed by the Congress, is in my judgment, an excellent statement of policy. It should stabilize the situation in Southeast Asia without exactly defining and telling the Communists our detailed plans. It states a policy, and should be a war preventative. The Communists do not know clearly what islands we will, or will not defend, except that in general, Formosa and the Pescadores, "and whatever else is necessary." They do know there will be no sanctuary for their forces if they should attack us, and that's important.

Thus a redeployment out of the small off-shore islands and the Tachens may be advisable, being a military decision. We can, should, and will defend Formosa and the Pescadores. Again defense of Quemoy and Matsu, for possible blockade reasons may be militarily wise. I assure you there is no thought here of our participating with ground troops. It is unnecessary, unwise, and I am convinced will not be done.

Good work speaks for itself.

Dr. Haas Speaks at Ranch Nursery School

The results of too much pressure on a child may show up in various ways—hostility, withdrawal, fantasy and even illness—according to Dr. Robert Haas, head of UCLA extension education, who spoke at Hastings Ranch Nursery School the other evening.

Children need the safety structure of knowing what is expected of them, and in that way are taught self-direction, he said. Too much pressure may stem from inadequacies of the parents, and learning to recognize whether a problem is yours or your child's may help you to see whether you are expecting too much and causing one of the symptoms named.

Dr. Haas' talk was one of a monthly series arranged through PCC for parent education at Hastings Ranch Nursery School.

Dr. Haas, in surveying the nursery school, told members they were fortunate in having such a well-equipped plant.

GARDENERS' CHECKLIST

1. For colorful borders or hedges, try a planting of the new floribunda cluster roses.
2. This is an excellent time to plant deciduous flowering shrubs, such as bridal wreath, snowball, lilac, flowering quince and weigela.
3. The fragrant daphne, which is blooming now, can be planted into the garden.
4. Tuberous Begonia bulbs should be sprouted indoors now. They may be set out into the garden as soon as frost is over.
5. Make early plantings of gladiolus now, directly in the garden.

In a recent contest to determine the "West's Best Shopper," two entrants announced that they used Metro bus service regularly when shopping.

"Metro buses are wonderfully convenient for shopping or visiting"

"Count me among your satisfied passengers," states Mrs. A. R. Peterson, South Pasadena housewife. "I figure my trips by the time table, and never have to wait more than a couple of minutes. It's a pleasure to be in buses as clean and comfortable as Metro's. And I've noticed how helpful the drivers are in calling stations and aiding the older people."

"Peril of Freedom From Danger" Subject At Church of Our Redeemer (Methodist)

"The Peril of Freedom from Danger" will be the sermon theme at the Methodist Church for the second Sunday in Lent. Rev. Church school classes for all ages meet at 9:30 a.m.

The executive committee of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet this Friday, Mar. 4, at 10:00 a.m. in the church parlor. All members are urged to be present.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet on Friday, Mar. 11, at 10:00 a.m. in the Methodist church parlor. Program leader for the day is Mrs. Myrtle Porter. Hostesses for the noon luncheon will be Mrs. Ruth Jensen and Mrs. Nellie Gilmore. All ladies are invited.

Rev. Robert H. Harper
Prayer in the Christian's Life.
Lesson for March 13: Matthew 6:
5-8; 7: 7-11; James 5: 13-16.
Golden Text: 1 John 5: 14.

When the disciples asked Jesus how to pray, he first exposed the false notions of those who loved to pray on the corners of the street that they might be seen of men. Prayer is to be made to God and not to men. Therefore the disciples were told to enter into their closets when they would pray. And Jesus declared that men are not heard for their much speaking. Some men in their praying deliver long addresses unto God as if he needs to be informed about conditions. God knows all about us and all our needs before we ask him anything.

Jesus used the form of Hebrew poetry, using a double triplet, as he was speaking of prayer. We are to ask and seek and knock, assured that we shall receive and find and have the door opened (Matthew 7: 7-8).

Through trust in an earthly father, Jesus taught men to look with confidence toward the Heavenly Father, as knowing that He will not give them a stone when they ask for bread but will, out of his infinite goodness and wisdom, grant them all good things.

James believed in faith healing and wrote the disciples to avail themselves of it, not only for themselves but also for others. Healing by faith has been neglected by the present church. We would not abandon all the fine means of healing of the time. But when we avail ourselves of the means, let us depend for the outcome upon the Heavenly Father.

"By concentrating on a single object, the weakest living creature can accomplish something worth while; whereas, the strongest by dispersing his power, may fail to accomplish anything," Carlyle.

Billy Graham Film Premiere at Bethany Church March 6

"Souls in Conflict," the fourth motion picture produced by Evangelist Billy Graham and filmed in full color, will have its premiere Sunday, March 6, at the Bethany Church, Baldwin at Montecito Avenues. All seats are free, with showing at 7:30 p.m.

The film in 35mm. color, is a trilogy, a full-length production which documents the life stories of an actress, a jet pilot and a factory worker, as they are influenced by Graham's miraculous messages delivered before audiences numbering as many as 120,000 persons in vast Wembley Stadium in London.

Donn Moomaw, six-foot-four, 222 pounds, All-American line-backer for UCLA, who turned down a most lucrative offer to play professional football in order to follow the dictates of his heart in the field of evangelism, is prominently featured, as is Colleen Townsend Evans, ex-Warner Brothers and 20th Century-Fox player.

Also featured in the cast of "Souls in Conflict" are Joan Winmill, star of the British TV thriller, "Epitaph for a Spy," Eric Micklewood and Charles Leno. Miss Winmill was one of those who "came forward" in Harrington Arena, later to receive counseling in the interview room from none other than Mrs. Billy Graham.

"Souls in Conflict" was produced by Billy Graham by Great Commission Films, Hollywood, in conjunction with Anglo-Scottish Films, London. Dick Ross wrote and directed the film. A special musical score was composed and conducted by Ralph Carmichael.

Funeral Services For O. John Grotte

Funeral services were held last Tuesday in Arcadia for O. John Grotte, 90, of 55 Monterey Lane, who died Feb. 26.

The deceased was a native of Minneapolis, Minn., and had resided in Sierra Madre for the past 3½ years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bernine G. Grotte of the Monterey Lane address, three daughters, Mrs. Gladys Losie of Sierra Madre, Mrs. J. B. Hicks of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. H. G. Krell; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Rev. A. O. Storvik, pastor of St. Timothy Evangelical Lutheran Church, Lakewood, Calif., officiated at the services. Interment was at Mt. View Cemetery.

Rev. Ostrander Announces Themes For Lenten Season

The Reverend Donald H. Ostrander, pastor of Trinity Presbyterian Church in Hastings Ranch, announces a special series of sermons to be delivered at Sunday morning worship during the Lenten season. The general theme is, "The Leaven of Lent"—A Study of Love, the Greatest Force in the World. The theme is delineated under the following subjects:

Mar. 6—"A Positive Antidote"; Mar. 13—"A Daring Dynamic"; Mar. 20—"A Growing Edge"; Mar. 27—"Two In One";

Man's Heritage Dominion, Declares Sunday Sermon

"Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright." This declaration of man's righteousness and true heritage is the Golden Text from Ecclesiastes (7:29) in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Man" in all Christian Science churches.

A scriptural citation from Matthew (8:7,8,13) records that when the centurion came beseeching Jesus to heal his servant who lay sick of the palsy, Jesus said, "I will come and heal him. The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof; but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. . . . And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou has believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour."

"Man, created by God, was given dominion over the whole earth," declares Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Again she says, "Mortals will some day assert their freedom in the name of Almighty God. Then they will control their own bodies through the understanding of divine Science." (pp. 545, 228).

SPRING DANCE PLANNED BY MOPETTE MEMBERS

Now that spring is drawing near, the Mopettes of the Foothill Jewish Community Center, are planning their "Spring Dance" to be held Mar. 19 at 8:30 p.m. in the Center, 212 N. Lima, Sierra Madre.

Woman's Christian Temperance Union Institute Holds Successful Meeting

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union Institute held Thursday, Feb. 24, in Fellowship Hall of Bethany Church proved both enjoyable and instructive.

Mrs. Ruth Rice, of Glendale, county president, conducted a spirited question and answer period on WCTU organization and declaration of principles. Reports showed many and varied forms of service. One item surprising the county officers was the making by one member of 151 pounds of soap which was sent to Korea through the Friend's Service Committee.

Vocal solos by Mrs. Robert Schaper and Mrs. Raymond Obazawa were the musical high lights of the day.

Mrs. Martha Bell of Torrance stressed the importance of work with children of the age group from 6 to 12 years.

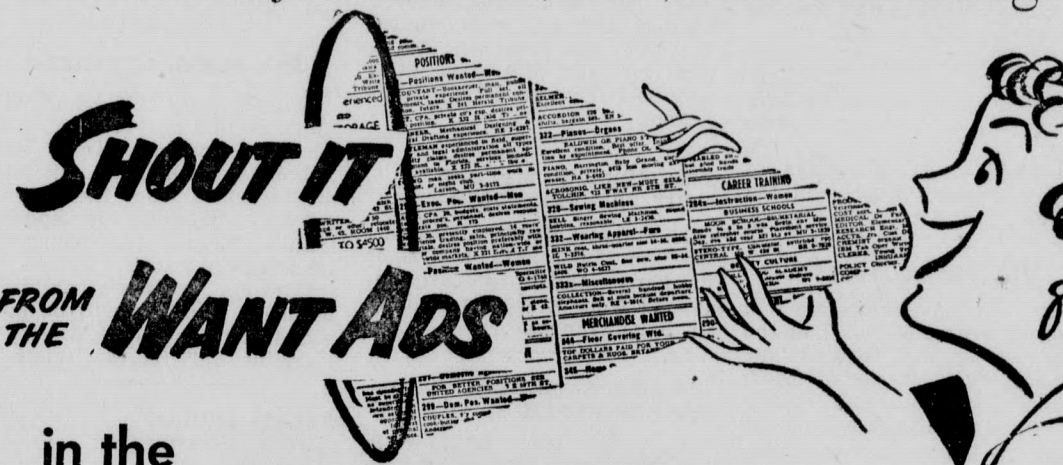

Mrs. Janet Glasco of Temple City set forth the work being done in getting over scientific temperance instruction to the youth of California. She announced that Governor Knight has proclaimed the week beginning April 24 as Youth Temperance Education Week. The governors of twelve states issued similar proclamations last year.

Mrs. Nelle Vieria showed colored slides of the National Headquarters of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in Evanston, Ill.

Mr. Edward Bateman, chaplain of the children of the Juvenile Court, was introduced and spoke briefly from his long experience working with children of delinquent parents. He has had wards of the Juvenile Court, as many as six boys at a time, in his own home with his eleven year old twin sons. His wife is whole heartedly in the work and mothers them all. He hopes to establish a home for more of these boys here in Sierra Madre.

Reception in Leach's Honor

The Rev. and Mrs. Harry P. Leach will be honored Sunday afternoon at a reception from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Congregational Church in acknowledgment of his services as interim minister for the Church since September.

The Congregational members previously have expressed their appreciation for the growth and development of their Church to which Rev. Leach has contributed, including his help as guest minister for three weeks in August 1954.

Plans for the reception are being made not in a spirit of farewell but in gratitude to both Rev. Leach and his wife for their assistance in these periods.

The topic for Rev. Leach's sermon Sunday morning, both at the 9:30 a.m. and the 11 a.m. services, will be "I Vow."

A promise is a small outlay intended to pay large returns.

QUESTION: I carry Medical Payments coverage with my automobile insurance and I would like to know whether there is any limit per person or per accident in that insurance.

ANSWER: The limit of Medical Payment coverage for each person is set by you when you buy the insurance. There is no limit set for any one accident. Have a good insurance agent check your policy and give you the exact figure.

New Directors For Community Chest Elected

New directors for the Sierra Madre Community Chest were elected Friday when approximately 30 directors and contributors met for an evening of business and entertainment at their first annual meeting at the Woman's Clubhouse.

Mrs. Alfred Masters was appointed to replace Howell White whose recent move to Connecticut forced him to leave an unexpired two-year term. Those newly elected were Donald D. Mon and Mrs. Edith T. Dane.

Directors who "replaced" themselves by being elected to three-year terms at the end of their present expired one-year terms were Newell Barrett, L. T. McGinnis, Mrs. Florence Peterson, Lorne Pratt, and Mrs. C. L. Young. The board of directors totals 21 members who serve in rotating terms.

An election of officers to fill the positions of president, treasurer, and secretary will be held at a board of directors meeting this month.

Special thanks for the entertainment at the Friday meeting went to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson who sang several solos and duets; also to Floyd Bennett who handled the projection for a sound motion picture entitled "A Criminal Is Born."

Business reports were given by Samuel Kirk, president; AAL Morgan, treasurer; and Mrs. Sidney Lumbard who read last year's campaign report in the absence of Newell Barrett, campaign chairman.

desire and enjoy the same type of environment as those owning single-family residences. These people should not be relegated to those areas that can only offer confusion and congestion. By adequate area controls an apartment or court can be as much of an asset to Sierra Madre as many of its fine homes.

Possibly the proposed zoning map, displayed at the public hearings, contains more area for such uses than is desired by the property owners, but it is for this purpose that the public hearings are held in order to detect just such things and to determine if the amount of multiple zoning can be decreased. However, whatever is done, IT MUST BE DONE IN A COMPREHENSIVE MANNER WITH CONSIDERATION GIVEN FOR ALL OF THE PROPERTY OWNERS AND POSSIBLE FUTURE RESIDENTS OF SIERRA MADRE.

The protection of a community and the effectuating of the desires of its citizenry requires the constant attention of the community. As long as the citizens of a community make known their desires they will determine its "mold", and it is certain that the interest shown at the public hearings on the Zoning Ordinance will be reflected in any final decisions made relative thereto by the City officials and its staff.

be proud of them and give them every possible assistance. One of the great burdens on the workers comes from the fact that often they call on persons who are not at home and have to go back time after time to see them, he pointed out. In such cases, the workers leave "Sorry You Were Not at Home" cards, with their names and phone numbers. It will be a great aid to persons generously giving time and effort if those finding such cards will telephone or call on the workers to give their donations.

Mr. Shippey got an appreciative laugh by introducing "Our own Florence Nightingale Peterson" to answer any questions. Mrs. Peterson is in the Red Cross office here every day from 10 to 12 and from 1 to 3 to give advice or help. Besides the Blood Bank and services in war and disaster, the Red Cross is always serving families in distress right here.

Edwin Meyer Offers New TV Plan to City

Ed Meyer, Sierra Madre's pioneering television dealer, presented to City Council Wednesday night a plan to "bring light to the dark areas of television reception" if the City will grant him a special business license to do so.

Mr. Meyer has come up with a plan which calls for the installation of a master antenna system under which the television owners would pay him $100 to connect with the system and $3.50 per month service charge. Those wishing the service would enter into a written agreement with him and the antenna system would use telephone poles on which to connect wires. Mr. Meyer says that he will carry full liability

New Recruiting Depot To Open in Arcadia

A recruiting office for men, 17 to 34 years of age, and women, 18 to 34, will open Monday at the Arcadia Chamber of Commerce office, 37 W. Huntington Dr., on a permanent basis during the hours from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

M/Sgt. Melvin L. Carr and Sgt. Kenneth W. Beekstrom will be in charge to answer the questions of anyone who wishes to inquire about the Army, Veterans' Affairs, the Air Force, or other related matters.

insurance and that he will pay the City $1 per year for each signed contract, if granted the license.

City Attorney Guy Cornyn and City Administrator Larry Bevington were requested to prepare a suitable contract with Ed Meyer.

missing. It was eleven o'clock and all of the stores were closed and Johnny had been promised the toy for many months. What could he do? Call the local merchants of course. But this effort was fruitless—all tractors were sold. How could he face Johnny in the morning? He broke out in a cold sweat—this was almost worse than the Battle of the Bulge, he told himself.

Yes, get in the car, that was the thing to do. Get going, boy, he told himself as he passed mile after mile of darkened stores. Finally, in Southgate he found a tractor in the window. He learned the owner's name through a policeman, called the sleepy proprietor who turned into a real Santa Claus by coming down at 3 in the morning to sell him the toy.

It was a mission accomplished at 4:30 Christmas morning and the man was basking in the knowledge that he, at least, was a resourceful father.

A little later in the day one of his friends trained in child psychology told him that the whole thing would have been much better for Johnny if he had simply explained the situation to him on a man to man basis. The father is still wondering why he didn't think of this simple way out.

We think, though, he's a little happier that he didn't.

THE LAST STRAW

One little lie has to be supported by another and another and finally its legs give out.

The value of what a man says is not measured by the number of words he uses in saying it.

A great many people see themselves as others see them, but they refuse to believe what they see.

Local Heart Fund Quota Doubled

The local Heart Fund drive during Heart Sunday, Feb. 20, recently brought results that are unique in Sierra Madre campaign histories when it counted collections amounting to more than double the quota.

According to Mrs. George R. Lovejoy, local campaign chairman for the Los Angeles County Heart Fund, $408 was the goal, but 80 women who canvassed house-to-house Sunday have turned in $822.71 — with possibly more to come.

The campaign this year was the first to be conducted in Sierra Madre on behalf of the National Heart Fund, sponsored in this area through the Los Angeles County division.

Money talks, but the things it says are not always what we want to hear.
